“Best White Wine” AGAIN for Dr. Frank Semi-Dry Riesling in Unprecedented Back to Back Win

Hammondsport, New York – February 4, 2015 – The chances of winning a top award in two consecutive wine competitions is nearly impossible. But the Dr. Frank 2013 Semi-Dry Riesling beat the odds and rose to the top again at the Florida State Fair International Wine Competition this past weekend. Just a few weeks ago, the 2013 Semi-Dry Riesling was named “Best White Wine” at the San Francisco Chronicle Competition. This time, the Dr. Frank 2013 Semi-Dry Riesling won “Best White Wine” at the Florida State Fair International Wine Competition.

The 2013 Semi-Dry Riesling previously won a top award at the Eastern Exposition Wine Competition as well, bringing the total of top honors to three. Riesling has been the champion grape for Dr. Frank’s for over fifty years and has contributed to the winery’s prestigious reputation year after year. “We are honored that our Rieslings continue to win top awards at such major wine competitions in the U.S. We believe these awards are a testimony to the quality of our wines,” said winery president, Fred Frank.

The Chateau Frank Célèbre Rosé also won “Best Sparkling Wine” at the Florida State Fair International Wine Competition and the Dr.Frank 2013 Gewürztraminer and 2012 Chardonnay won double gold medals. Gold medals were won for the Dr. Frank 2014 Grüner Veltliner and 2013 Riesling Reserve at the competition.

Located on Keuka Lake a few miles north of Hammondsport, Dr. Konstantin Frank Vinifera Wine Cellars has long been associated with the New York wine revolution. Its founder, Dr. Konstantin Frank, helped pioneer the introduction of the European vitis vinifera grapevines in the eastern United States.
